

European Cystinosis Conference, Berlin. 13 -15 July 2018

CALL for Posters presented with an elevator pitch.

INVITATION for RESEARCHERS

The Cystinosis Network Europe (CNE) is a network of Cystinosis Patient Organizations of Belgium, France, Germany, Ireland, Italy, Spain, The Netherlands and UK. In July 2018 CNE will organize for the first time a European Cystinosis conference in Berlin. You can find more information about the conference on our website by following this link

We are organising a poster session on Saturday 14th July. The aim of this session is to inform families and those living with cystinosis about all the research that is going on. This session aims to give hope to people dealing with this disease and give researchers an opportunity to have direct contact with the people they are working for. However, this goal can only be achieved when you are able to explain the aim of your work in a patient-friendly, layperson way. All selected researchers will have an elevator pitch time of 3 to 5 minutes to introduce their work for the entire audience. After the pitches, there will be time scheduled to have one-to-one or small group discussions in front of your poster.

Size poster signs will be: 145 cm height x 115 cm wide

There will be a prize for the best poster and the best pitch from a vote by the families and those living with cystinosis

To be clear: this poster session is not about full-colour printing or high resolution pictures but about explaining your research in a patient friendly way and low budget

We look forward to receiving your summary (max 350 words) in English, before April 1 by email:

You will receive our response before April 15
